TWO DAY CERTIFICATE COURSE ON FUNDAMENTALS OF SPORTS LAW

Nishant Sheokand is the Associate Dean (Academic Affairs) and Associate Professor of Law at Vinayaka Mission's Law School (VMLS), where he manages academic operations and teaches sports law, mediation, and legal research. He practices as a sports lawyer, advising football clubs and sports management firms in Spain and India. With a Global Masters in Sports Management from Instituto Superior de Derecho y Economía and FC Barcelona, and an LLM in Sports Law from Jindal Global Law School, he combines strong academic credentials with professional expertise. He has published extensively and serves as Visiting Faculty at IIM Rohtak.

Rushika M is an associate at LawNK, a leading sports and entertainment law firm in India. She advises clients in sports, gaming, technology, and media on intellectual property, contracts, dispute resolution, sports governance, and self-regulation. She also serves as legal counsel at Copyright Integrity International, assisting sports organizations with brand protection policies and IP issues. As the managing editor of the Global Sports Policy Review, she contributes to the discourse on sports law and policy, publishing articles on current legal developments. Passionate about learning and networking, she strives to deliver quality work and create value for clients.

Prof. Subhrajit Chanda is an Assistant Professor at OP Jindal Global University and Assistant Director at the Centre for Sports Law, Business, and Governance at Jindal Global Law School. He is pursuing a PhD and holds LL.M. degrees in Sports Law from Nottingham Trent University, UK, and in Energy Law from the University of Petroleum and Energy Studies, India. He has completed courses with the UK Anti-Doping Agency, FIFA, and the International Olympic Association. A former athlete with the Sports Authority of India, Subhrajit is the editor of "Sports Law and Policy in Present Global Scenario" and Founder of the Global Sports Policy Review.

Aakash Batra specialises as a Sports Lawyer at 14 Sports Law, an international boutique law firm based in Portugal, focusing on all things legal in the world of sports. 14 Sports Law's work includes international and national dispute resolution before sports arbitration bodies, including the FIFA Football Tribunal and the Court of Arbitration for Sport, in addition to advising on compliance, disciplinary, contractual and regulatory matters, and assisting investors in the sports business. As a Co-founder and Editor of Sports Law Review India (SLRI), Aakash remains committed to fostering dialogue and community building around sports law.

Ryan James is a qualified lawyer specializing in sports and corporate law, with experience at Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas, Under 25, and Archangel Sports Management. As Managing Editor of Global Sports Policy Review, he has honed his expertise through internships with Krida Legal, Khurana & Khurana IP, and courses from Enhelion and FC Barcelona Universitat. Ryan has extensive experience in the sports industry, including roles in public relations and as a commentator for Fancode, DD Sports, and Sportscast. He has also worked with the legal teams of Royal Challengers Bangalore and the ICC Cricket World Cup 2023.
